² The imperfection of the Julian computation of the annual calender, occasioned the Gregorian calendar to be adopted in many parts of Europe. In England it was not adopted till the year 1752, when the error required the intercalation of eleven days. Accordingly, by an Act of Parliament of that year, the 3rd of September was made the 15th; and the year which was heretofore reckoned as commencing in March, was ordered to commence the first day of January. (S. C. St. at Large, V. 4, P. 6.)
